Denies the Allegations.

Louisville, Ky., July 15.—The Marion Zinc company, of Paducah, filed an answer this morning with the clerk of the federal court here, denying the allegations in the petition filed sometime ago to force the concern into involuntary bankruptcy. The first paper was filed by DeWitt C. Griffith who claimed that he was a creditor of the company, and that it had committed an act of bankruptcy in allowing another creditor to obtain judgment, preferring him.

In the answer filed this morning, and signed by C. S. Knight, president of the zinc company, it is stated that the concern has committed no act of bankruptcy and that it is not insolvent.

1000 MEN ENGAGE IN A RACE RIOT

Fierce Assault Results From Arrest of White Man.

Many Heads Cracked, Several Shots Fired and Scores of People Were Hurt.

TOOK 250 POLICE TO QUEL IT.

New York, July 15.—"San Juan Hill," the district bounded by Amsterdam and West End avenues and Sixty-first and Sixty-third streets was the scene last night of a furious race riot, which required 250 policemen to quell after many shots had been fired and several persons had been seriously injured.

The trouble began shortly after 9 o'clock when a policeman arrested Edward Connelly for attacking Henry Williams, a negro, and was pursued to the station house with his prisoner by a mob of Connelly's friends hurling showers of stones and other missiles. When the station house reserves turned out the whole neighborhood was in an uproar and the blacks engaged in desperate struggles in the streets. Torrents of missiles were hurled from roofs and windows. Within ten minutes not less than a thousand men, boys and women, black and white, were engaged in furious combat.

The small party of police were powerless and reinforcements were summoned. These also were driven back to the station by the mob, and further reinforcements were called.

A force of more than 250 policemen were gathered and attacked the rioters. Squads cleared the roofs of neighboring buildings while others swept the streets of rioters. By 11 o'clock the fighting had ceased.

In all seven whites and two negroes had their injuries attended to by the ambulance surgeons, but scores of others less seriously hurt were taken to their homes by friends. Five whites and six negroes, among them women of both races, almost all of whom bore traces of the conflict with the police were arrested.

PENALTY SUITS WON BY THE STATE

May Mean Half a Million to Wisconsin.

Other Suits Similar to These Are Still Pending in the Courts.

FALSE REPORTS ARE CHARGED

Madison, Wis., July 15.—The state won penalty suits against the Northwestern, Milwaukee, Omaha and Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie railroads.

The court finds the state is entitled to recover from each of these roads $10,000 as these railroads admitted they falsified their reports of gross earnings made to the state for 1902. The state still has an action against these same railroads to recover penalties upon the reports of earnings which they made in 1903.

The state has penalty suits also against the Wisconsin Central road, the Green Bay, the Burlington and the Illinois Central. On the basis of the decision today and on what is known of the reports of the earnings of the roads which have been filed with the state for 1902 and 1903 and upon which these railroads pay license fees for 1903 and 1904, the state would be entitled to recover penalties of $160,000.

The recoveries of the penalties total in the above amount is only a small amount of what the railroads will be compelled to pay the state. On gross earnings wrongfully withheld they still owe the state 4 per cent upon the total amount of gross earnings, which will amount to more than a half million dollars.

HOME PURCHASING SUITS FILED TODAY

Stockholders and Directors Sued for all the Money Collected.

WILL PROBABLY AMOUNT TO OVER $50,000, COUNTING TRUST FUND

W. B. Smith, the Former Banker, is Asked to Dis- gorge About $25,000.

Suits were today brought in circuit court here to recover from the directors and stockholders of the People's Home Purchasing Co., the thousands of dollars alleged to have been collected from certificate or contract holders and misappropriated by someone.

One of the suits is against the directors for $30,000 collected from contract holders, which it is alleged should have been set aside as a trust fund for the fulfillment of contracts, and which it is further alleged has been misappropriated by some one. The suit is against the directors individually to make good the amount.

The other suit is against those the books show were stockholders, for whatever amount of the concern's capital stock of $200,000 is necessary to discharge the liabilities of the company.

The style of the first suit is F. G. Randolph and Cecil Reed, receivers of the People's Home Purchasing Co., against J. S. Bordeaux, W. B. Smith, H. H. Loving, G. D. Palmer, G. R. Davis, C. E. Whitesides, C. M. Martin, W. G. Smith, J. J. Friendlich, L. B. Anderson, P. A. Caddis and J. T. Donovan, alleged to have composed the board of directors of the company.

The petition alleges that the corporation began business without any capital whatever being actually paid in, and did carry on an investment business issuing and selling contracts for which the company received $5 monthly. The petition alleges that a total of over 875 contracts were made and a total of more than $40,000 paid into the treasury. The petitioners allege that the money belonged to the company and out of this $30,000 should have been set aside as a redemption fund for the redeeming of contracts when they expire, and to be known as a "trust fund" to be held always in reserve.

The petition alleges that the defendants have converted the money to their own use by paying big salaries, attorneys fees, and in other ways illegally disposing of the money to be held in reserve and the petitioners pray judgment against the defendants for the $30,000.

The other suit filed is against all the stockholders in the concern as shown on the books, and is for the entire amount of money paid in by contract holders, between $40,000 and $80,000.

It was brought by Receivers Randolph and Reed and alleges that the company is insolvent and unable to discharge its obligations and that the stockholders did not really pay over anything for their stock. The minutes of the board of directors fail to show where any stock was paid for at any time and because of this method of organization the plaintiffs allege that the stockholders are liable for a certain portion of the funds taken in from contract holders.

The sums sued for is prorated as follows among the following defendants named: W. B. Smith, $25,000; C. M. Martin, $2,000; G. R. Davis, $2,000; G. C. Wallace, $5,000; S. A. Fowler, $5,000; C. E. Whitesides, $5,000; L. B. Anderson, $5,000; Charles Reed, $1,000; H. H. Loving, $5,000; C. W. Morrison, $1,000; G. D. Palmer, $1,000; J. P. Holt, $1,000; W. C. Gray, $2,000; W. C. O'Bryan, $5,000; L. B. Whitesides, $1,000; Mrs. Flins S. Wyatt, $1,000, and B. B. Breeden, $2,000.

It is understood that the Home Purchasing company is what is known as an "abortive" corporation and that a concern of this kind is similar to a co-partnership, and each member of it is liable for a portion of the liabilities of the concern, whatever the liabilities are.

It is understood that at least some of those sued above have not been associated with the concern in any way, and will show that their names were used without authority, and that when stock was sent to them gratuitously in order to get the use of their names as stockholders or directors, it was sent back as soon as the nature of the concern was ascertained. In some instances as soon as the stock was sent out, it is said, the organizers of the company had literature sent out with names as stockholders or directors of several men who immediately prohibited the use of their names, but not before the desired effect had been secured by the promoters, who had already put out the literature.

Attorneys Crice & Ross and Hendrick, Miller & Marble, of Paducah, and Boynton, of Atlanta, filed the suits.

Finds Pot of Counterfeit Money

Danville Ill., July 14.—Deputy United States Marshal D. G. Williams, of this city, has unearthed $1,308 of counterfeit money on a farm seven miles east of Ridge Farm, a small town in the southern part of this county. The bogus coin was buried in an old tea kettle in the foot of a beech tree in the thick of the woods near the home of Douglas Hays. Eight years ago Hays was tried in Indianapolis on a charge of passing counterfeit money, but was acquitted. The money has been turned over to the secret service authorities. It consisted of $1,108 in silver counterfeit dollars and $200 in counterfeit $20 gold pieces. Deputy Williams got trace of the bogus money through an unsigned letter received by him several months ago.

The unspent ammunition which the Indians failed to bring into use during Thursday's game, was turned loose yesterday afternoon at Wallace park on the Kolbits, and "Count" Bonno was beaten to the banks in great style but it was not Bonno's fault.

The official summary will show the hits even, and the errors separated by a narrow margin, the Indians making more "boulders," but the errors were what served to be the undoing of "Count" Bonno.

The Indians scored in the first and third innings, and the Hoosiers in the fifth inning.

The Indians got their runs through a base on balls and a double by Taylor, and nearly the identical performance was repeated in the third inning, only Thompson dropped a long fly and permitted two runs to tally.

tally.

The Indians scored in the first and third innings, and the Hoosiers in the fifth inning.

The Indians got their runs through a base on balls and a double by Taylor, and nearly the identical performance was repeated in the third inning, only Thompson dropped a long fly and permitted two runs to tally.

The Kolbits scored, but it was well earned. Harbour doubled and tally.

The Indians scored in the first and third innings, and the Hoosiers in the fifth inning.

Donovan singled, and this netted the tally.

FORCE OF HABIT.

They got a walking delegate.

To umpire while they played;

He said he'd give it to them straight.

But what a mess he made.

Nobody ever got to first—

The players were appalled.

They said he surely was the worst.

For strikes were all he called.—RN

Platt has never pitched against;

Calro at Calro, and when the Indians go to the Egyptian city tomorrow they will put the big twirler up to on the Sunday stunt.

Bonno seemed to have been the drawing card yesterday, the grandstand being filled with ladies. There were five women for every man and over 1,500 fans were out to root the Indians on to victory.

The Indians got one scratch hit and also did the Kolbits, and each team has a double to its credit, both long hits going to the same field.

Taylor made some sensational catches in the field yesterday.

Sunday there will be a double-header between Hoptown and the Alice men.

Roy Gregory, Calro's new pitcher, was stabbed in the neck Tuesday night by a negro while walking along a street in Calro. The negro mistook the player for another man.

President Brown can't be found. He has evidently tired of his job and hiked to the woods.

Zinkins fired Bonmar out of the park and the pitcher thanked him. He chased Morgan off the coaching line and Morgan was glad. He threatened to report Long to the president for kicking and Artie invited him to report. It seems that Zinkins had an off day. Poor fellow.—Henderson Gleaner.

The Calro Telegram "hands" a dose to President Charlie Brown. Umpire Kelfer and Paducah in general, but it looks like the allegations are rather hard to substantiate. Here is what the paper prints:

"Calro and Vincennes have filed a protest against Kelfer, charging him with lying, duplicity, acting as agent for a club and being prejudiced in favor of one certain club, all of which are in violation of the constitution. The two clubs declare that Kelfer shall not officiate in any games as an umpire in which they individually or collectively are engaged. They further declare they will not admit him to their parks, and in conclusion ask Secretary Greaney to remove him by virtue of the authority vested in him by Section 10, Article XIII of the constitution. The facts are that Kelfer is a pet of Brown's and is a secret service agent of Paducah. Kelfer MUST go. President Brown himself has convicted Kelfer in his correspondence by remitting many unjust fines that the bum umpire has imposed upon players of teams when engaged in games with Paducah. Kelfer won't do and MUST go."

The hard-hitting Mud Wallopers were at it again yesterday. Ten hits off the renowned Larnes is stepping right along. Got one up our sleeve for Willey Platt when he meanders this way. Have as good as got him beat already. He'd better stay at home as he has in the past when his team has visited here.

Glory! If we can get that bunch from the Alice Men and they then beat Paducah the chances look few for the Indians to win when they drop in here for three days.—Calro Bulletin.

Witt and Forney, Brable and Land will be today's batteries.

Napoleon LaJole's sense of humor is occasionally shown in highly original ways. At the hotel in Chicago where the Nap's stay a unique requirement of the dining room is that the guest shall write his name on the bill of fare after checking off the things he wants. The other morning Larry waited long and patiently for his breakfast. Finally he sent a waiter to the kitchen to bring back the bill of fare upon which he had written his name and added thereto: "Born 1875," still no breakfast. Again the bill of fare was sent for and this time Larry wrote thereon, "Occupation, ball player." "There," said the King, "if this identification is not sufficient to get one chop and a piece of toast bring it back and I'll put down the time I arrived in town and my batting average."

Are Seldom Strangers.

When a new player is signed by a league team the fans all wonder what the other team will think of him imagining probably that the other team members had never seen him. In many instances he is an old comrade of some other players in an opposing team, and to illustrate the point take yesterday's game with the Hoosiers.

Gus Bonno was pitching. Bonno last year played with the Charleston, Va., team and among his team mates were Hahn and Cooper, of the Vincennes team, and Eddie Taylor, of the Indians' line-up. Taylor knew Bonno and lined out a double, but Gilligan, for whom Bonno formerly pitched in Urbana, O., couldn't get at the ball, the wily "Count" knowing what it meant if he did. Perry and "Brownie" McClain played with Sidney, O., and at the same time Gilligan was opposing them in Urbana uniform.

All this was several years ago, and since the players have drifted apart, enough to make a whole team could be secured in the Kitty league who formerly worked together, but who are now scattered in other Kitty league teams.

Amateur Games.

There will be a city league game at the park tomorrow morning between the L. A. L. and Famous teams. The game will be called at 9:30 and the players, with a two weeks' rest, promise some fine sport.

The batteries will be Block and Andrecht for the L. A. L.; Douglas and Brable for the Famous.

The Centrals will go to Mound City tomorrow to play the team of that place. The batteries will be Freeman and Block for the Centrals; Eckstone and Sessler, for the Mound City team.

HER SECRET.

SHE.

How did you know I loved you,
How did you dare to speak?
Was it my blush that told you?
Yes, as my arms unfolded you,
It mumbled my dimpled cheek?
How did you guess my secret?

How did you dare, that night,
When, behind the palms, you found me
To put your arms around me.

Never asking me whether you might?
HE.

I might have guessed by your blush
as,
Or the look that was in your eyes,
I might have known by your sighing
That your heart for my love was giving.

If I had been worldly wise,
But I wasn't compelled to guess it
And needed no courage to dare,
I learned from your dear little brother

What you had confessed to your mother
Before I encountered you there.

HENDERSON CLUB
TO BE REORGANIZED?

Reported Secretary and Manager Have Resigned.

$500 Arrears in Salaries Must Be Paid—Patronage in the League
Said to Be Decreasing.

SEVERAL TOWNS ARE LOSING

All is not well with the Henderson baseball team, and there is talk of the organization of a new stock company to take over the present holdings, finance the club and finish
the season, says a Henderson dispatch to the Evansville Journal-News. Matters were brought to a crisis by the resignation of Secretary Zimbro and Manager Kulitz. Efforts will be made at once to get money to make up arrears of $500 in salaries.

Baseball has been profitable here,
but in other cities in the league it has suffered, and the local club has had to share losses not its own. With the exception of Paducah and Vincent, none of the clubs are on a paying basis, and elsewhere public subscriptions have been necessary to carry the clubs. Henderson people will probably come to the rescue of the club.

For some reason it is claimed that interest in baseball has diminished
all over the league. All the cities claim to be losing, the average attendance being smaller, according to report, than during the two preceding seasons. Despite this a better ar-ricle of ball is being offered the fans than ever before witnessed in this part of the country, and the Kitty League has attracted the attention of the entire baseball world by the fastness of some of its games.

While it is not doubted that the people in the various large cities will allow their club to drop out of the league before the end of the season,
it seems from reports that there is a rocky road ahead for at least some of the clubs.

The public may not notice any falling off in attendance, but players who were in the league last year do.
Gus Bonno's first words after he hit Paducah were that the league generally was not drawing and he has thus far been to only the best drawing towns in the league.

THE IMPEACHMENT

Charges Against City Judge Everts
Come To Monday.

The impeachment charges preferred against City Judge Everts were not taken by the board of aldermen last night, one alderman being away from the city, and it being necessary to have a full board, and because of the absence of attorneys interested in the case.

There were five members present.
They were President Dick Davis, Aldermen Trine, Durrett, Starks and Farley. It was stated that in the absence of any member the trial should not be gone into and further that Attorney W. F. Bradshaw, Sr., who has been employed to conduct the prosecution, was unable to be on hand because of his mother-in-law's death.

The trial was postponed until Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock and all witnesses who had been summoned were recognized to return.

TRIAL MONDAY

Of Bank Jones, Charged With Shooting Another in Callaway County.

The examining trial of Bank Jones of Callaway county, charged with shooting and wounding Andy Lawson
several weeks ago, will take place
Monday at Stella, Callaway county before Justice Swan. Since the shooting Lawson has been suffering from his wound and been unable to attend the trial.

Attorney Pete Seay, of Mayfield, has been engaged to assist in the prosecution.

LOST IN THE WOODS

PADUCAH ORGANIZERS FAILED TO INSTALL WOODMEN.

Took the Wrong Road at the Fork
and Kept Going the Wrong Way.

District Deputy Organizer Ham-
berg of the Modern Woodmen of America, has a map of the county roads and is learning the lay of the land, having gone through anything but a pleasing experience last night while attempting to reach Massac to organize a lodge.

Organizer Hamberg was in one buggy with Mr. J. H. Fritzels, and following in the second buggy were Messrs. H. L. Eley and J. Maloney.
The organizer undertook to direct the course and when Lone Oak was reached took the wrong direction.

The party rode three or four miles past the fork and began to think that Massac ought to show up pretty soon. Becoming perplexed at the failure to arrive at their destination,
a farmer was approached and it was learned they had taken the wrong
road.

It was too late then to go to Mas-sac and the waiting party at Massac who expected to be installed were disappointed. The organizing party returned to Paducah and will try it again next week.

out, however, until there are three of four branches in all, the whole thing being carved from one piece of wood, and having fifteen or more divisions or branches.

VACATION.

For Your Summer Outing

Allow us to suggest Colorado and Utah, famous the world over for their cool and invigorating climate, magnificent mountain scenery and picturesque summer resorts, which are located along the line of the Denver and Rio Grande, "The Scenic Line of the World." Very low excursion rates and "Circle" tour tickets are on sale during the summer months via these lines to all the principal points of interest. The Denver and Rio Grande, with its numerous branches penetrating the great states of Colorado and Utah have some forty different "Circle" tours through the Rocky mountains, one of which in particular is the famous 1,000-mile tour for $28.00, which comprises more noted scenery than any similar trip in the world, passing the following points of interest: La Veta Pass, Poncha Pass, Toltec Gorge, Indian reservations, Durango, Mancos Canon, Rico, Lizard Head Pass, Las Animas Canon, Silverton, Ouray, Cimarron Canon, Black Canon of
the Gunnison, Marshall Pass and the Royal Gorge. This trip can be comfortably made in five days, but at least ten days should be devoted to it, so that one may view at leisure the principal sights. Tickets at very low rates are also on sale at Salt Lake City, Utah. If you contemplate a trip through Colorado or Utah, let us send you some beautifully illustrated booklets free.

A GOOD THING.

Supt. Young Taylor Says Money
Can Be Saved by Caulkers
Spinning Oakum.

Supt. Young Taylor of the Paducah Bay Docks Co., stated this morning that he could make 75 cents a bale for those who contract for repair work on their floating property,
by the caulkers spinning their own oakum.

He stated that he had several dozen bales of oakum spun but instructed several caulkers to go to spinning. While the caulkers were unaware of it, the superintendent was timing them and finds that he profits by the caulkers spinning the oakum instead of having boys to do it.

Supt. Taylor stated that he signed the agreement with the understanding that if the other firms did not come in, he could withhold and that the caulkers would hold no ill feeling towards him. He specified 15 days but is leaving the matter open to give the other firms a chance to come in.

Daily Thought.

"Everything is possible to the man who knows how."

REAL PROGRESSIVE SPIRIT.

The observations yesterday of

"Alexis" are worthy of earnest consideration. Paducah does not desire, and cannot afford to lag. We must work. Nothing much comes to the city whose people sit idly by and say of men, industries and institutions that desire to locate,

"Oh, if they want to come they'll come, so what's the use in worrying?"

Paducah does not want to follow

in Cairo's footsteps. Down there recently they had a monster demonstration in favor of a "Greater Calro." Yesterday's Citizen says:

There is a firm conviction

fastening itself upon many citizens that the Greater Cairo

movement was all talk, indulged in for electioneering purposes. Events that don't transpire would seem to furnish reasonable grounds for such suspicion. There is no desire to do an injustice to anyone—men's intentions may have been good;

at that time they may have thought they would "do things"

—but, there's another thought coming, just at this juncture of time. "Good intentions" don't improve a city. The road to a certain place is paved with that kind of thing.

Many cities, especially the growing ones, find in certain classes of citizens the greatest obstacles to growth and progress. Owensboro

has an instance and the Messenger says:

Certain business men are attempting to prevent the building of a union depot in Owensboro. They are opposed to the union station because it will remove the depot of the Illinois

Central from that part of the city in which their business houses are located. Persons going to and from trains will not pass their doors, and thus a few

nickels that go into their tills

will be spent with other merchants or remain in the pockets of the patrons of the railroad.

preached. Without any intention of unduly influencing these east end business men, we would commend to them this manner of looking at the matter. In the increased commercial importance of the city the temporarily lost trade would be as bread cast upon the waters

which shall return after many days. In any event, Owensboro is going to have a union depot.

That is a very nice, delicate way to put it. Men are by nature selfish,

but oftentimes their selfishness

smacks of the "pennywise, pound

foolish." In trying to benefit themselves in a small way they are often injuring their interests in a large way. What we need along with a progressive spirit is a far-sighted

one. We need more men who realize that in building up the town we are helping every man's business.

Although there may be a direct loss

for some, the indirect gain to all

which in the long run usually exceeds all loss to everybody, is most

to be considered.

Let every man put his shoulder to the wheel.

Henry Yontsey, who says since he got into the penitentiary for life,

that he was in a conspiracy to kill the late Senator Goebel, and who is certainly a self-confessed perjurer, if nothing worse, is out in a diatribe against former Governor Taylor, asking why the latter doesn't return to Kentucky "now that he is certain that Powers will have a fair trial."

It was not generally known that a fair trial for Powers is by any means certain yet, as the matter is still in the courts. Yontsey indicates that he himself, as much wrapped up in the "powers that be" in Kentucky as he has been since he found himself a life prisoner with no hope of freedom except through the new

whose tool he has become, is not certain that Powers is to have a fair trial, by the following eloquent pe-

roration: "I fail to see any comfort

for Powers in Judge Cochran's decision, as nearly all the cases he elites were remanded to the state courts, but if he has the right of freedom then the 2,000 prisoners

here at Eddyville have the right to liberty, state courts should be swept away, both penitentiaries razed to the ground, and penal institutions in Kentucky be a thing of the past." This indicates, besides, that Yontsey is being kept pretty well posted on court decisions by someone. But why should he complain? He has "got all that was coming to him." If his own statements are to be credited, and should be satisfied.

The Kentucky railroad commission has decided that express companies are common carriers similar to railroads, and that the board has authority to regulate their rates. It would be a difficult undertaking to predict what the politicians of the state will undertake to run next.

The fact that Gov. Beckham was to umpire a game of baseball gave rise to the report that he had been shot. Most people would prefer being shot to umpiring a ball game,

anyway, which may fully account

for the startling rumor.

President Morton, of the Ecu-

liade, denies that Chauncey Deow has resigned that $25,000 job, but Chauncey says he has. Chauncey is a smooth boy not to give them a chance to kick him out.

Sues For $5,000 Damages.

A suit was filed in circuit court

this morning by Emma Rose against

the Paducah City Railway Co. for $5,000 damages for personal injuries. In the petition she alleges that while stepping off a car near 12th

and Madison on March 25, a trolley rope caught her feet and the car

started up, dragging her a great distance and badly injuring her.

SPEAKING BEGINS IN SENATOR'S RACE

Ballard and Carlisle Counties
Will be First.

HE IS NOW IN FRANKFORT

Senator J. Wheeler Campbell has announced a list of speaking for Ballard and Carlisle counties, begining at Wickliffe Monday, July 17,

and ending up in Carlisle county August 8. Senator Campbell thus far has no opponent for the Democratic senatorial nomination and an anouncement is made of speaking in McCracken county.

Senator Campbell will be accompanied on his tour by James H. Wyatt, J. T. Davis and W. T. White, candidates for the Democratic nomination for representative from Ballard and Carlisle counties.

Senator Campbell is one of the few men in politics who do not allow the railroads or other corporations to show them any favors which may obligate them.

Senator Campbell has been offered mileage over many roads, simply as a matter of courtesy on the part of the roads, but he has refused them

all, saying that he appreciated the offer very much but would rather not accept and he didn't.

Yesterday's Frankfort State Journal says:

"Senator J. Wheeler Campbell, of Paducah, is in the city arranging

some details concerning the state encampment with Governor Beckham and Adjutant General Haly.

GREAT DAMAGE TO ALL THE CROPS

Wheat, Corn and Tobacco Wash ed Out of Fields.

Interesting Comment of the Western Tobacco Journal On Kentucky
Crop Conditions.

RAIN IS THE ONLY MENACE.

The drift of our correspondence the past week shows that while heavy rains fell very generally early in the week, doing damage and loss to plants in low lands, the crop otherwise has not been injured, but is growing off well, says the Western Tobacco Journal.

From Henderson, Ky., we learn that great damage was done to isolated places in the country, where very heavy downpours washed wheat corn and in some cases tobacco completely out of some fields, but otherwise the growing crop, generally speaking, looks well and is doing well under the drying winds and cool weather for the most of the week.

Some thirty or forty loads of tobacco came to market, the most being in dry and sound order, which were disposed of at prices from one-half to one cent less than some time ago. The Growers' Association in Henderson has quit receiving any more tobacco for this season.

From Owensboro, Ky., we learn that the balance of the 1901 crop has been marketed, with sales of fully one hundred loads last week, without change in price or different buyers. The Gallaher company has quit buying for the season and is now pricing what it bought. It is estimated that the Society of Equity will receive about 3,000,000 pounds in Owensboro this season. The Growers' Association held a meeting in Owensboro last week, at which reports from different places were announced concerning the condition and size of the crop planted, and the re-election of officers of the company. A motion was made to hold their next meeting with closed doors, but on the president, Mr. Dunn, saying he would consider all business brought before such a meeting as wrong and against the rules of the society, the matter was dropped. The crop planted this year will be about the same as last.

KENTUCKY NEWSLETS

Old Soldier Seriously Ill.
Central City, Ky., July 15.—Jas. M. Yonts, a pioneer citizen of Central City, a prominent man of the town and an old Confederate soldier, lies critically ill at his home, of a complication of diseases. His age, 60 years, and his weakened condition from a recent attack of fever, prevent an operation, the only relief for his ailment.

Declared Legally Dead.

Louisville, Ky., July 15.—Judge Kirby has decided that Reuben Hemingray is legally dead and that Lida Hemingray is entitled to the rights and status of a single woman. The case involves one of the most mysterious disappearances ever known here. In September 1895, Hemingray, a prominent tobacco man, went to Chicago on business. One letter was received by his wife announcing his safe arrival. Since then not a word has been heard from him and no trace has ever been found. As he has been missing more than seven years, the law presumes him dead. Mrs. Hemingray in her petition set forth that their married life was ideally happy; that her husband was in comfortable circumstances, and that she is convinced he met foul play. She wanted the status of a single woman for business reasons.

Blacksmith Won.

Louisville, Ky., July 15.—Blacksmith Patrick Kirby has forced the county of Jefferson to come to his terms and pay him $1,000 for his lease on a one-story shack which he occupied as a blacksmith shop. It is on the site of the new armory which the county bought without taking into consideration Kirby's lease. It tried every way to evict him or force him to take a smaller consideration, but Kirby stood firm for $1,000, and got it.

Fought With Knives.

Louisville, Ky., July 15.—Nunzio Corso, proprietor of a saloon and fruit store and one of the wealthiest Italians in the city, and his nephew, Andrew Harris, fought with knives in one of Corso's stores at Second and Jefferson over a family trouble. Corso stabbed the young man several times in the body and he is expected to die. Corso, who was slightly hurt, was arrested.

Child Killed by a Mule.

Henderson, Ky., July 15.—Thornton, the ten-year-old son of Circuit Clerk Moseley, was killed by a mule near Cairo. The child was standing in a buggy drawn by a mule, and in order to make the animal go faster whipped it. The mule kicked him the head barely grazed the skin, but even making an abrasion. The force of the kick, however, was communicated from the jawbone to the base of the skull, causing a fracture of the skull and concussion of the brain. The child leaped from the buggy and ran a short distance, when he sank to the ground dead.

Fulton, Ky., July 15.—The largest crowd that ever attended a basket picnic and barbecue in this vicinity was present at the Woodmen of the World picnic.

Married at Fulton.

Fulton, Ky., July 15.—John Fuller and Miss Laura Rosenkranz were married here at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. J. A. Woods. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Hamp McLeskey, of the Cumberland Presbyterian church.

Death at Fulton.

Fulton, Ky., July 15.—Mr. Lerby Gates, aged about 28 years, died here after a year's illness of consumption. Until about a year ago he was a baggage-master, running on the Illinois Central railroad. He was four feet tall on account of ill health and acting upon the advice of his physician, went to Texas. About six weeks ago he came home, the change of climate having failed to give the desired relief. Mr. Gates was a son of Mr. Tom Gates.

The Return of SHERLOCK HOLMES

By A. CONAN DOYLE

The Adventure of the Priory School

No. 5 of the Series

That evening found us in the cold, bracing atmosphere of the Peak country, in which Dr. Huxtable's famous school is situated. It was already dark when we reached it. A card was lying on the hall table, and the butler who opened the door for us, who turned to us with agitation in every heavy feature.

"The duke is here," said he. "The duke and Mr. Wilder are in the study. Come, gentlemen, and I will introduce you."

I was, of course, familiar with the pictures of the famous statesman, but the man himself was very different from his representation. He was a tall and stately person, scrupulously dressed with a drawn, thin face and a nose which was grotesquely curved and long. His complexion was of a dead pallor, which was more startling by contrast with a long, dominating beard of vivid red which flowed down over his white waistcoat, with his watch chain gleaming through its fringe. Such was the stately presence who looked steadily at us from the center of Dr. Huxtable's hearth rug. Beside him stood a very young man, whom I understood to be Wilder, the private secretary. He was small, nervous, alert, with intelligent light blue eyes and mobile features. It was in his eyes at once in an incisive and positive tone, opened the conversation.

"I called this morning, Dr. Huxtable, to prevent you from starting for London. I learned that your object was to have Mr. Sherlock Holmes undertake the conduct of this case. His grace is surprised, Dr. Huxtable, that you should have taken such a step without consulting him."

"When I learned that the police had failed,"

"His grace is by no means convinced that the police have failed."

"But surely, Mr. Wilder?"

"You are well aware, Dr. Huxtable, that his grace is particularly anxious to avoid all public scandal. He prefers to take as few people as possible into his confidence."

"The matter can be easily remedied," said the overbearing doctor. "Mr. Sherlock Holmes can return to London by the morning train."

"Hardly that, doctor; hardly that," said Holmes in his bluntest voice.

"This northern air is invigorating and pleasant, so I propose to spend a few days upon your moors and to occupy my mind as best I may. Whether I have the shelter of your roof or of the village inn is, of course, for you to decide."

I could see that the unfortunate doctor was in the last stage of indecision, from which he was rescued by the deep, sonorous voice of the red-headed duke, which boomed out like a dinner gong.

"I agree with Mr. Wilder, Dr. Huxtable, that you would have done wisely to consult me. But since Mr. Holmes has already been taken into your confidence it would indeed be absurd that we should not avail ourselves of his services. Far from going to the inn, Mr. Holmes, I should be pleased if you would come and stay with me at Holderness Hall."

"I thank your grace. For the purposes of my investigation I think that it would be wiser for me to remain at the scene of the mystery."

"Just as you like, Mr. Holmes. Any information which Mr. Wilder or I can give you is, of course, at your disposal."

"It will probably be necessary for me to see you at the hall," said Holmes. "I would only ask you now, sir, whether you have formed any explanation in your own mind as to the mysterious disappearance of your son?"

"No, sir, I have not."

"Excuse me if I allude to that which is painful to you, but I have no alternative. Do you think that the duchess had anything to do with the matter?"

"The great minister showed perceptible hesitation."

"I do not think so," he said at last.

"The other most obvious explanation is that the child has been kidnapped for the purpose of levying ransom. You have not had any demand of the sort?"

"No, sir."

"One more question, your grace. I understand that you wrote to your son upon the day when this incident occurred."

"No, I wrote upon the day before."

"Exactly. But he received it on that day?"

"Yes."

"Was there anything in your letter which might have unbalanced him or induced him to take such a step?"

"No, sir; certainly not."

"Did you post that letter yourself?"

"The nobleman's reply was interrupted by his secretary, who broke in with some hint."

"His grace is not in the habit of posting letters himself," said he. "This letter was laid with others upon the study table, and I myself put them in the post bag."

"You are sure this one was among them?"

"Yes, I observed it."

"How many letters did your grace write that day?"

"Twenty or thirty. I have a large correspondence. But surely this is somewhat irrelevant."

"Not entirely," said Holmes.

"For my own part," the duke continued, "I have advised the police to turn their attention to the south of France. I have already said that I do not believe that the duchess would encourage so monstrous an action, but she had the most wrong-headed opinions, and it is possible that she may have tried to do so."

"That is a possibility," said Holmes.

"I could see that there were other questions which Holmes would have wished to put, but the nobleman's abrupt manner showed that the interview was at an end. It was evident that to his intensely aristocratic nature this discussion of his intimate family affairs with a stranger was most odious, and that he forced last every fresh question would throw a deeper light into the dark shadows of his secret life."

When the nobleman and his secretary had left, my friend turned himself at once with characteristic eagerness into the investigation.

The boy's chamber was carefully examined and yielded nothing save the absolute conviction that it was only through the window that he could have escaped. The German master's room and effects gave no further clue. In his case a trailer of ivy had given way under his weight, and we saw by the light of a lantern the dark on the lawn where his heels had come down. That one dent in the short green grass was the only material witness left of this inexplicable nocturnal flight.

Sherlock Holmes left the house alone and only returned after 11. He had obtained a large Ordnance map of the neighborhood, and this he brought into my room, where he laid it out on the bed, and, having balanced the lamp in the middle of it, he began to smoke over it and occasionally to point out objects of interest with the smoking amber of his pipe.

"This case grows upon me, Watson," said he. "There are decidedly some points of interest in connection with it. In this early stage I want you to realize these geographical features which may have a good deal to do with our investigation."

"Look at this map. This dark square is the priory school. I'll put a pin in it. Now, this line is the main road. You see that it runs east and west past the school, and you see also that there is no side road for a mile either way. If these two facts passed away by road, it was this road."

"Exactly."

"By a singular and happy chance we are able to some extent to check what passed along this road during the night in question. At this point, where my pipe is now resting, a county constable was on duty from 12 to 1. It is, as you perceive, the first crossroad on the east side. The man declares that he was not absent from his post for an instant, and he is positive that neither he nor man could have gone that way unseen. I have spoken with this policeman tonight, and he appears to me to be a perfectly reliable person. That blocks this end. We have now to deal with the other. There is an inn here, the Red Bull, the landlady of which was ill. She had sent to Mableton for a doctor, but he did not arrive until morning, being absent at another case. The people at the inn were alert all night, awaiting his coming, and one or other of them seems to have continually had an eye upon the road. They declare that no one passed. If their evidence is good, then we are fortunate enough to be able to block the west end also to be able to say that the fugitives did not use the road at all."

"But the bicycle?" I objected.

SAGHALIEN SEIZURE IS A BIG SCOOP

Japanese, in it. Strike a Hard Blow, Truly.

The Island Covers the Approaches to Vladivostok.

KEY TO THE PACIFIC PORTS

St. Petersburg knows the meaning of Japan's capture of the island of Saghalien. It was formerly claimed by Japan, but Russia seized it 30 years ago by something of the same sort of strategy used by her long afterward in getting possession of Manchuria. Japan would naturally want to get the island back again, for sentimental if for no other reasons. And the Japan of 1905 is able to rectify the wrong of 1875.

Something more, however, than Japan now to regain Saghalien. That island covers the approaches to Vladivostok. The power which holds it has the key to the entrances and exits at Russia's big port on the North Pacific. Her capture of the island, moreover, probably means an immediate attack on Vladivostok. There have recently been indications that a detachment of Oyama's army was to move on that fastness from the interior. Fleets have been seen in the vicinity. A siege of that port, sentimental reasons in cities like the one which bottled up and eventually captured Port Arthur, seems to be imminent. Oyama's and Togo's recent inactivity stands a chance to end soon in a way that will add to Russia's disasters and humiliations.

On the peace terms the capture of Saghalien will have an immediate effect. The island being in Japan's hands will be held by her, and Russia will be deprived of all ability to hand it over in lieu of a money indemnity. It is already as firmly in Japan's possession as is Port Arthur. Neither will ever be given up by Japan. Saghalien's capture puts Japan in possession of Russian territory, the first which has been gained during the war. In this respect the conquest will naturally have a depressing effect on the Russian capital. It is a promise of that Japanese dash to the Russian coast in Europe which was heard of just after Togo destroyed Rostovsky's fleet. Some of the Russian papers say Saghalien's capture will delay peace. The chances are that it will have the opposite effect. Saghalien is lost forever to Russia, and she can not use the island in any deal with Japan in the peace conference. But if peace be postponed many more weeks Vladivostok may be added to the list of Japan's conquests. Russia may be shut out forever from access to the Pacific in that part of Asia and the cash indemnity which she will have to pay may also be increased. Russia's interest lies in making peace at the earliest possible moment.

Indigestion.

With its companions, heartburn, flatulence, torpidity of the liver, constipation, palpitation of the heart, poor blood, headache and other nervous symptoms, sallow skin, foul tongue, offensive breath and a legion of other ailments, is at once the most widespread and destructive malady among the American people. The Herbine treatment will cure all these troubles. 50c bottle.

Towboat Accident.

Memphis, Tenn., July 14.—The big towboat J. B. Finley met with an accident near Helena, and was forced to tie up her enormous tow at that place and return to Memphis to repair the damage. She reached the city early yesterday morning, and got to the bank at the elevator of the Pittsburg Coal Co., and at once began to make repairs. She is expected to get away this evening. The accident which the Finley sustained was the burning of two boiler sheets which caused a damage too great to be repaired at that place. It required the skilled labor of regular boiler makers.

QUESTIONABLE POSTALS.

Are Tabooed by the Postmaster General.

Washington, July 14.—In the postoffice department's crusade against impurity in the mails, attention has been directed to questionable souvenir post cards. Daily officials are in receipt of scores of these species of brilliantly printed card board, having a tendency toward the immoral, or profane, sent in by postal employees all over the country in conformity with instructions of the postmaster general that such missives must not be delivered to the persons addressed.

Hundreds of designs, just a trifle "off color," but which may be seen exhibited in windows of reputable stores, are among the tabooed.

The fellow who hawks in his penny for the card that bears the inscription "I'm having a devil of a time" with the devil represented by a dancing red figure of His Satanic Majesty, will be greatly disappointed when he learns that the stamp affixed carried his cheerful message to Postmaster General Curtlyon instead of to his chum back at home.

Between 7 o'clock and 11 the temperature rose at the rate of three degrees an hour, and although the sun was obscured almost the entire forenoon by threatening clouds the temperature at the weather bureau was 85 at 11 o'clock, within one degree of the point it reached yesterday at the same hour under fair skies. The weather bureau reported that no effect was in sight.
